Scope and Contents note

The Mint Museum hosted the Ramesses The Great: The Pharaoh and His Times Exhibition from October 1, 1988 to January 31, 1989. As of that time, this exhibition was the largest ever undertaken in the Mint Museum's history. This subseries contains materials related to acquiring, planning, designing, marketing, staffing, executing and documenting of the exhibition, and includes notes, reports, correspondence, newspaper and magazine clippings, brochures, floorplans, posters and assorted ephemera, photographs and negatives, slides, audiotapes, videotapes, and DVDs.

Arrangement note

This material has been kept in the original order established by each department from which it was collected, and the original labeling has been maintained as much as possible.
